PFOS Statement
For Zywyn Corporation Interface, EL and Display Driver Products

To Our Valued Customers:

Zywyn products do not contain as intentional additives perfluorooctane sulfonates (PFOS) as identified in EU Directive 2006/122/EC (30th amendment to EU Directive 76/769/EEC).

This information represents the best of Zywyn's knowledge and belief as of to-date that it is provided. Zywyn acknowledges the material content on information provided by appointed supplying vendors. We have taken records, measures, and will continue to take commercially reasonable steps to provide representative and accurate information, but may not have conducted destructive testing or chemical analysis on incoming materials and chemicals. Zywyn and our appointed material supplying vendors have considered that certain information is proprietary, thus the CAS numbers and other sensitive information may not be available for release.

Zywyn provides product warranty on the material content representations in the Zywyn Environmental Declaration Statement on Pb-Free & RoHS Compliancy document.
